Foreword

Through its many years of existence, Petersburg High School has guided and strengthened its countless students for the work they must undertake upon graduation. To every student the high school offers preparation for all facets of future life; but only the students can grasp these opportunities and take advantage of them.

The curriculum is classified by three main headings whose import may readily be recognized. In turn these are also subdivided into many courses and topics, each devoted to certain fields of interest. College Preparatory, whether one stresses a liberal arts or more scientific background, is mandatory for college entrance. Business education, whose main emphasis is on the secretarial and clerical work, supplies people for these vital aspects of business life. The General program provides a course in which students, parents, and counselors have planned studies to meet the needs of the individual graduating from any accredited high school.

Our vocational school, increasing proportionately with the student body, has been a great asset to Petersburg High School. Established in 1963, it provides pre-technical training in many fields, and soon will furnish students for the new Tri-city area technical college.

Preparation, however, is not limited purely to the academic program. Extra-curricular activities of all kinds can be found here. The publications, the Missile and the Review, sponsor journalistic development; Y-clubs and Key Club promote character and spiritual development. The social clubs present opportunities for service, and leadership ability is often developed by work in the S. C. A. Indeed, extra-curricular participation can not be stressed too highly, for results will never be obtained from scholastic records alone.

From only the two simple courses with which our school initiated its first students has evolved this complex and comprehensive curriculum which will guide us through these formative years. Study and participation can only guide and prepare us for adulthood; decisions in life are the responsibilities of each student.

The Voyage Begins . . .

Life is a voyage. The winds of life come strong
From every point; yet each will speed thy course along,
If thou with steady hand when tempests blow
Canst keep thy course aright and never once let go.

—Theodore Williams
The Voyage of Life

As its theme for 1966, the Missile has designated this year as the Voyage of Petersburg High School. Because of the similarities in experience and preparation, the comparison is very appropriate. It has been many years since Petersburg High School's maiden voyage; she is sea-hardened and sea-worthy, and diligent in her preparation of students for that great voyage of life.

Like the staff of any ship, our faculty plots the course of our journey, guides us through any storms which we may encounter, and steers us toward the completion of the trip. As their influence is received, we gain first-hand knowledge of the voyage.

On board ship Petersburg High School has much to anticipate both in activities and in recreation. Club memberships have never been higher and the successes in all sports could not be more happily displayed. Certainly all our extra-curricular participation will put down the gangplank to new voyages.

The crew, of course, plays the largest part in producing a smooth-running voyage. Every member, from the eighth grader, the unacquainted apprentice seamen, to the senior, the experienced mate, has a duty to perform. If all work together on the common journey, Petersburg High's benefit will be tremendous.

In June, 1966, the senior class graduates; they disembark, and while glancing back at the meaningful years spent here, they push ever forward to the future.

Though the staff and crew of the voyage have changed often through the years, her purposes and ideals have remained the same—to educate and prepare for the greatest trip of all. The words of the theme remind us that success in this voyage of life is ours—

—"If thou with steady hand when tempests blow,
Canst keep thy course aright and never once let go."

As The Anchor Is Weighed

Before any journey begins, many questions must be answered. Where will I go? What will I do? What will I see? A travel agent is often called upon to map out the best course and show the points of interest.

Thus the new students at Petersburg High School seek their guidance counselor before they start their careers. The curriculum is selected, and a direction is taken. This step completed, the student is ready to begin the voyage of high school life.

The Whole Art Of Teaching—

Dedication

> The whole art of teaching is only the art of > awakening the natural curiosity of young minds, > for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards.[1]

No teacher more profoundly demonstrates this art of instruction than the head of the mathematics department in our school. In this modern era in which knowledge of mathematics is increasingly of vital importance, Mr. Burton F. Alexander stimulates interest by his presentation of this subject, with especial emphasis on its relation to the world around us.

A man of industry, competence and boundless energy, the accomplishments of his varied life are comparable to his successes in the field of education. His involvement in high school life, as it is elsewhere, is almost measureless. In addition to his duties as sponsor to the Missile business, circulation, and photographic staffs, he has been Senior class sponsor for the past two years. His interest and participation in many sports is continually exhibited, and there are few who can forget those anguished days after certain Yankee games.

His influence is not limited to Petersburg High School, for Mr. Alexander conducts college extension courses at Fort Lee and a Men's Bible Class at Walnut Hill Baptist Church. But even a partial listing of his contributions to his city, as well as his high school, is not possible here.

Mr. Alexander was graduated from Newark Academy in New Jersey, and received a B.S. degree from his beloved University of Virginia. He taught for a while at Stuarts Draft, Virginia, and in December of 1942 joined the Navy, receiving his training at Columbia University. After being commissioned an ensign in 1943, he served in many campaigns of the war, gaining two Bronze Stars in the invasion of Okinawa and Iwo Jima. At present he is a commander in the ready-reserves.

In 1946 he moved to Petersburg, obtaining his master's degree in the same year. Mr. Alexander has realized the necessity for keeping abreast with changing curriculum and methods, and is now working on his doctorate at the University of Virginia.

Therefore, if only as a small token of its pride, admiration, and gratitude for the accomplishments of a friend, sponsor, and teacher, the staff of the 1966 Missile dedicates this annual to one who has dedicated his life to the service of others—Mr. Burton F. Alexander.

MR. BURTON F. ALEXANDER
Teacher, Sponsor, and Friend

Our Favorite Cavalier

As class advisor, Mr. Alexander, with Mona Shaban and Elaine Slate, discuss plans for the senior trip to Charlottesville.

"Hurry up, boys, you know we have to deliver 1000 Missiles in ten minutes!" demands circulation advisor.

With a steady hand at the wheel, Mr. Alexander proves to be a skillful Navy navigator in World War II.

"Mr. Gill, the Missile staff needs another new camera," pleads advisor of photographic staff.

Staff Officers

In a voyage of this size, the staff must play a tremendous part. Whether caught in the classroom, or in more informal moments such as this one, the faculty retains a great responsibility.

Each teacher may measure his countless hours of instruction with the successes of his students, for it is toward their future that the teacher has worked so diligently. As they review the students' records, they must feel satisfaction in their efforts.

The staff members on this voyage have many other duties; many sponsor clubs, direct athletics, and counsel travelers. They all work to promote a stronger school.

Moments such as the one above enable the faculty to work together; the atmosphere is lighter, but the subjects more serious. These people are the seasoned voyagers; they have watched their classes, and continually they plan and supervise the voyage.

Staff Officers In Command

RUSSELL B. GILL

College of William and Mary
University of Virginia
B.A., M.A.

"Petersburg High School," says our principal Mr. Gill, "is a comprehensive high school whose purpose is to provide for the interests and needs of all pupils." Our school program projects in many directions—curriculum, activities, and athletics. We have a responsibility to prepare students who wish to attend college or prepare for jobs. This is the reason such courses as English 9, advanced biology, and the vocational courses.

Activities are one facet of a comprehensive high school. The Missile and Review are learning things which give experience in journalism. A new activity is forensics which was added because "there are students who want and ought to have this activity." Along with other "profitable experiences," athletics have grown with the school. Mr. Gill says, "We have struggled hard for great things, and this struggle has led us to be the best in publications and athletics."

Guidance is another important factor in a balanced high school. Our grade counselors are "ever seeking to improve their guidance to provide help in the selection of courses, in preparation for jobs, and in choosing the right college."

The educational television, which is used in science and history classes, is also used in teacher training, and will be expanded in the future. Mr. Gill feels ETV is a substantial help as a teaching aid. Just like lawyers and doctors, teachers "must keep up with the trends in education. PHS is mindful of this and is taking advantage of it."

The administration has taken passage to go on the voyage to the future and definitely has a forward look "by seeking constantly every means to keep PHS in pace with the high standards that are so necessary in this age."

EDWIN M. BETTS

University of Virginia
B.S., M.Ed.

Mr. Betts has asked, "For whom does the school work?" The teachers with the students work to provide the students with a broad background for the future. Therefore, he stated that he will devote extra time to something that is advantageous to the students. The newly established book rental system has been one of the primary functions of our assistant principal. He believes that it enables the school to distribute textbooks to every student in an orderly fashion. The advent of this program and the expeditious way with which it was carried out significantly reduced the amount of lost time in the first weeks of school. Another benefit is the substantial saving of money to the student—one half the cost of buying books.

This past spring Mr. Betts was honored by being elected president of the Virginia Education Association. This year, as president-elect, he will be an observer, getting ready to assume his presidential duties. "It will," he stated, "be a challenge, and it points to an exciting future. I, as a person, will grow with the contact of new people and ideas."

Social Studies Opens Porthole To Past

Miss Taylor and Elaine Slate try to decide which picture from the student's art show should be sent to the Louvre.

"Now class, for the next selection of sing-along with Senorita . . . ." announces Senorita Wilkinson, preparing the Spanish 5's for what's to come.

Margaret Dalton and Herbie Prizer wait in anticipation for Mrs. Brown to read the next chapter of Goldfinger.

Col. Lloyd explains to new government students Cynthia Jones, Blanche Gay, and Robert Cook, how to pass: "Laugh at my jokes or fail."

High Goals Are Charted—

"All together now one-two-three," says Mrs. Irvine as she leads her English class in choral poetry reading.

All eyes are on Mrs. Willet as she gives a stirring performance of Longfellow's "Evangeline".

In giving an oral book report to Mr. Butterworth, Mary Johnson tells, "And the wolf then went to the third little pig's house."

"All right, class, everyone contribute to the Edgar Allan Poe Monument Fund for PHS," says Miss Evans to her 316 homeroom.

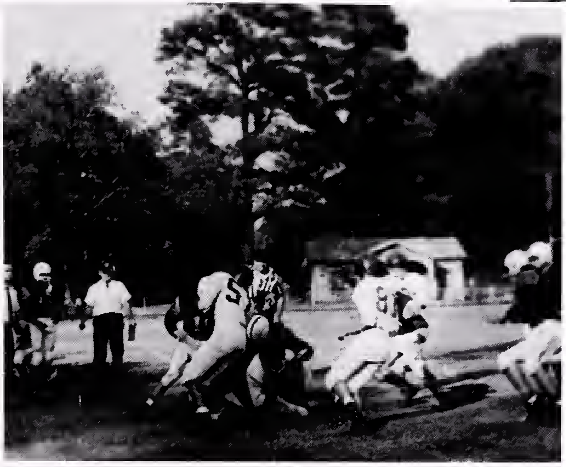
Achieved By Administration

Ann Mann awaits her green stamps after receiving some college catalogues from Miss Bailey.

In talking over one of the SCA's money raising projects, secretary Kim Roberts says to Mr. Zaruba, "Yes, sir, I'm sure we can sell each student two 'Scalp the Devils' buttons."

Coach Tyler and Coach Jenkins strain to see the students down the hall whom Mr. Jean has scolded for being in the hall before 8:30.

"If you really wanted to," says a solemn Mr. Betts to Coach Churn, "You could have a cricket team."

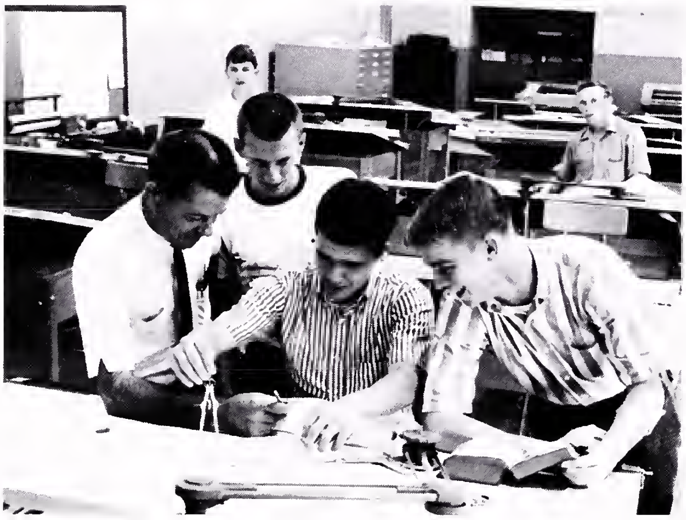


Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Ramsey look on as Mr. Budlove says how grateful he is that his Drivers' Ed. students are taking their frustrations out on the field instead of the road.

Commanders Guide Imaginations

In the vocational metal work shop, Mr. Slater supervises the bench work of David DiRienzo.

Hodges Curtis is dumbfounded over the fact that Mr. Cline wants him to analyze a waveform through a cascade amplifier.



Gary Rowlett and Bernie Nelson laugh as Ronnie Bishop tells Mr. Jolly that it is easier to trace a half-dollar than to use a compass.

Mr. Parr prepares to conduct a referendum on the class' favorite color on the color wheel.

Mrs. Kimmel and her medical technologists students, Carol Spero, Blanche Gay, and Janet Bishop wish they could lose so much weight.

To Inventions Of The Future

"Oh, come on now, you know there's no middle D", says Mrs. Edwards irritably.

Jean Temple says to Mrs. Rennie, "Don't you think it would be easier to just sew on a belt rather than bother making a waistband?"

After witnessing the first step in dressmaking, Brenda Avent thinks it would be easier to buy the dress.

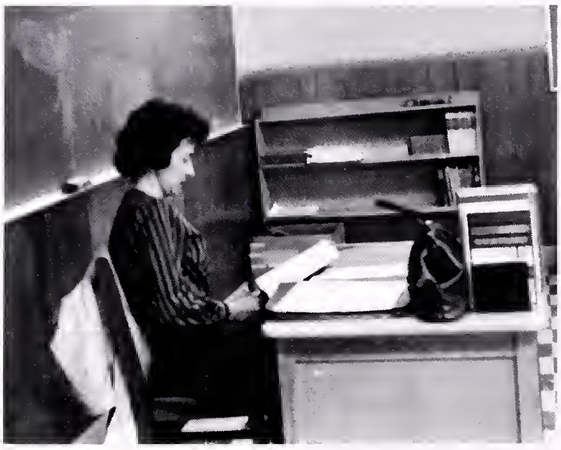
As Mrs. Musgrove reaches for another flower from Debbie Evans' basket, Mr. Gill ponders the statement "Please don't eat the daisies," and agrees.

Mr. Stronach strikes a Mitch Miller pose as his band class strikes up for another.

Activity Is Keynote For Office Personnel

Not recognizing a single name, Miss Moyer and Miss Slaughter realize that the calling cards of PHS Seniors have been mixed-up with those of another school.

"Please, Miss Reynolds, sit down; you're rocking the boat."



Between her business education classes, Miss Inge finds one of the few still and quiet moments in a teacher's day.

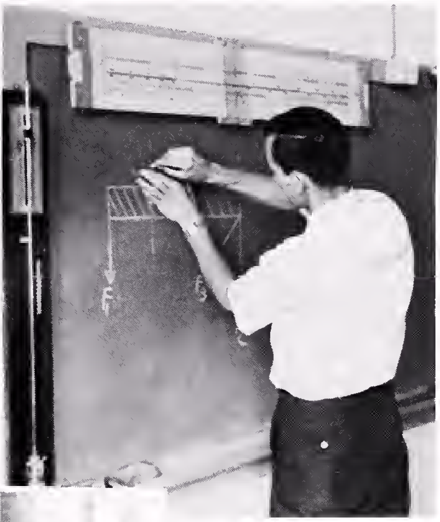
Mary Butler tries to persuade Mrs. Brooks, her typing teacher, that "graphic" is spelled with two "f's".

Miss Curlin listens intently while Junior guidance counselor Miss Morgan explains a student's perplexing planning sheet.

Math Is The Eternal Puzzler

Miss Ownby is so engrossed in her blood sample that she is totally unaware of the presence of Mr. Thomas and a salesman.

A bewildered eighth grader is puzzled at Mrs. Gatling's explanation that H_2O really is water.



Mr. Sublett draws a diagram to explain parallel forces to his confused Physics I class.

Claudia Alperin tries to imitate Mrs. DuPriest's perfection in washing test tubes.

Ann Sommervold and Jean Zachman yuk it up as Miss Gwaltney points out Joanne Hartman's mistake of adding 18 and 2 and getting 23 credits for graduation.

The Future Is In Our Hands

In the spring seniors realize many long anticipated moments—here Kathy Goodall and Dade Lunsford order calling cards in the office from Miss Moyer, the teacher in charge of such arrangements.

Carriers

Long before the time arrives, seniors prepare for the most important day of their journey—graduation. Ordering announcements is a significant moment: the realization of the rapid approach to the conclusion of the 1966 high school voyage.

Even as he reviews the many days and long hours spent in preparation, the senior anticipates greater moments to come. He realizes the benefits which his studies have given him and the groundwork which they have laid. His rudder has been set, and now the course lies ahead.

Thus the senior advances to the first docking point—the close of the senior year. There he must transfer to a larger ship and embark on a longer voyage for which the high school journey has been a preparation.

Full Speed Ahead

Underclassmen

The years spent as underclassmen in Petersburg High School are some of the most important of our life. In this time we gain a foundation upon which to build the future. Let us remember that we spend the greatest number of the days which compose our voyage as underclassmen.

To juniors, the "cruisers", the Ring Dance is the central point of their year. As the younger classmen gather around, the junior can proudly display his ring, for the ring symbolizes the approach of the end of the trip. He knows that the final course is now in sight. Juniors, too, have new experiences in their year — college boards, National Merit Exam, and advanced courses.

Sophomores, "destroyers", eagerly await their year. In it is much to be done and accomplished. Much work is spent on the Homecoming Festivities, their class's responsibility.

Freshmen, the "patrol craft", and eighth graders, "torpedo boats", encounter many difficult things — new, different, and harder courses; a greater load than that carried in previous years. Yet each willingly accepts this burden, for he looks forward to even greater moments to come.

"Full speed ahead" is indeed an appropriate order to underclassmen; it is they who, with full awareness and strength, must press on to fill the roles of departing seniors, and, in time, to complete their voyage as well.

"T-h-e q-u-i-c-k b-r-o-w-n f-o-x j-u-m-p-e-d . . .", the typists change in unison.

"Stairway To The Stars"

"Did you say one egg or two?" questions Eleanor Robertson of Betty Howard as Toni Truchan awaits the addition of the ingredients to the pan.

Preparing for the Ring Dance, Bob Walker and Bernie Nelson build a "stairway to the stars."

"There goes my five dollars," sighs Steve Gill as he orders his class ring.

Spirited Juniors Step Up The Ladder

"How could I be so stupid?" ponders Johnny Robertson in mechanical drawing class as he realizes the line should be vertical instead of horizontal.

"Round and round and round it goes..." intone Margaret Edmunds and Margaret Schulze as they methodically construct their geometric figures.

"Last, but not least, here's my book report, Mr. Miller," apologizes Larry McCoy.

Seamen Are A Light-Hearted Lot

On the way to their next class, clowning sophomores Tommy Land and Jay Marks practice their latest judo techniques to the amusement of Richard White.

Sophomore David Reames, Bob Antozzi, Bob Pugh, Robert Minton, and John Maclin strain to see what poor soul dropped his lunch tray.

"Hey, that's me!" exults Kay Scarbrough to Debbie Barney upon viewing herself in the Missile.

Before leaving school, Frank Wiley calls to confirm a date.

Midshipmen Anticipate Highlights

Industrious phys. ed. class is seen transforming the gym into a discotheque.

For sophomore homecoming project, Sue Costner and Caroline Griffith make elaborate preparations.

The Panics provide the beat for the sophomore A-go-go.

Eighth graders are caught in typical antics and poses during pre-school "gab sessions".

Class Of '70 Receives Boot Training

The taking of Missile pictures presents a new experience to eighth-grader, Susan Hoppe.

Famished eighth graders enjoy "the pause that refreshes."

Preparing for her future role as a homemaker, Donna Wawner operates a sewing machine in Home Ec. class.

Events Supply New Outlets For Energy

Activities On Board

Petersburg High School has a long roster of clubs which have varied interests and purposes. Whether they are journalistic, service, or social clubs, all their memberships are large and accomplishments great. Many projects worthwhile both to the school and the community have been developed. Each club thus contributes to a more successful voyage.

In the spring of the past two years, the Inter-Club Council, the organization responsible for co-ordinating club activities, has sponsored a talent show; it has been one of the highlights of the voyage. In it perform members of the individual clubs; and like the clubs they represent, they perform separately, yet work together to produce an excellent show.

To each student has been given the opportunity to join some club; in return for his participation and effort, he may expect honors, satisfaction, and friendship. Because of the student body's glowing interest in club activities, their purposes and accomplishments, this trip will not be merely more enjoyable, but also will lead to greater journeys in future life.

Student Council Builds Toward

The officers of the S.C.A. are: Kim Roberts, Secretary; Howard Wilkerson, President; Steve Gill, Vice-President; Mr. Richard Zaruba, Sponsor.

The Student Cooperative Association is the organization through which student problems are presented to the faculty and the administration.

To create, promote, and maintain a well rounded school activity by which all students can benefit is the objective of the S.C.A.

"Be a Good Participation, Honor, Study 'ER" has been the S.C.A.'s theme for the year; it has been developed by posters placed in each homeroom. Buttons to promote school spirit were again sold this year.

Every student in Petersburg High School is a member of the S.C.A. One representative and one alternate from each homeroom are elected to attend meetings in behalf of the other students.

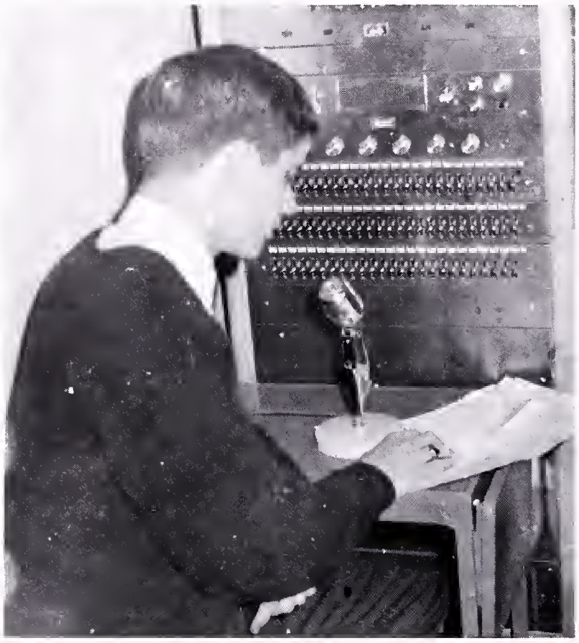
"Quick," says Mr. Zaruba to Kim Roberts, "pull out the fuse before it explodes!"

Future By Energizing School Spirit

S.C.A. representatives work for understanding between faculty and students.

Representatives constantly try to promote school spirit.

Shore Activities Gain Support



Making the S.C.A. weekly report, president of S.C.A., Howard Wilkinson, uses the new intercom system.

New Ideas Committee, Earl Guill, Spot Roper, Susan Van Wagoner, Phillis Sheintock, and Skip Booth, reviews posters for placement in the halls.

"Well, I don't guess the show will go on," moans S.C.A. helper, Janet Costner.

Inter-Club Council Welds One From Many

The main objective of the Inter-Club Council is to coordinate all club activities in order to prevent the overlapping of similar projects among the activities at Petersburg High School.

Projects undertaken by the Inter-Club Council this year include the selling of flowers at the Thanksgiving football game and the presentation of a variety show in the spring.

The council is composed of presidents or representatives of the various clubs at Petersburg High School.

The Inter-Club Council Variety Show hosts the Glee Club "Puerto Ricans" from West Side Story.

Solons Serve Aboard Launch

The Petersburg High School Chapter of the National Honor Society has been in existence for only three years. The students composing this organization agree to uphold the standards by exhibiting the qualities for which the National Honor Society stands.

This year the society has served our school by ushering at the district teachers' meeting. They have also assisted Miss Reynolds in administering the Thorndyke tests to Juniors.

Membership is based on character, leadership, and service as well as high scholastic average. This high scholastic average must be maintained in order to remain in the organization.

"This little light of mine . . . " hums Robert Higginbotham as Senior members, Paulette Bulifant, Ricky Buettner, Peggy Auders, and Claudia Alperin, are installed.

One Common Goal—

Missile

From that little room on the third floor hall, one would never realize the great size of the Missile operation. The yearbook production is divided between three large staffs—the Editorial, Advertising, and Circulation. It is the job of the Editorial Staff, advised by Miss Frances Evans, to compile the yearbook itself. The Advertising and Circulation Staffs, both under the direction of Mr. B. F. Alexander, handle the financial aspects of the book. The Advertising Staff strives through the sale of ads to obtain the support of the community for the annual, while the Circulation Staff handles its sale and distribution.

All three staffs, while working at their individual tasks, have one common goal—to produce a yearbook that will remind each student of the years he spent at Petersburg High School in preparation for the future.

Membership is on a volunteer basis, subject to the approval of the sponsor; one must possess determination and stamina and must be truly dedicated to his job.

Each year the Missile is judged by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and for the past three years it has been awarded a first place rating.

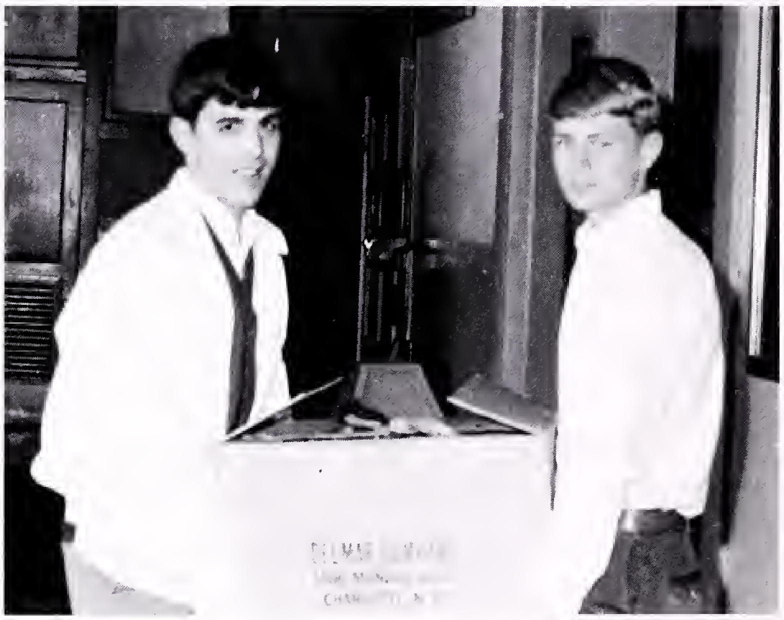
Busy Staff Of '65 Missile Working in

"What else could happen to the Missile?" moan Phyllis Sheintock, Roxie Eure, Becky Goodwyn, Miss Evans, and Elizabeth Boulware as they learn the lights were turned on in the darkroom during the development of vital pictures.

Senior proofs are identified by Phil Spencer, Bill Traylor, James Mizelle, Dade Lunsford, and Bobby Hunt.

Dade Lunsford demonstrates the laying out of a page to Who's Who editor, Paulette Bulifant.



"Happy days are here again!" exclaim Louis Levitt and Robert Challen as the Missiles finally arrive.

Tiny Room Produces First Place Winner

Helpful typists register students for picture taking.

Paula Tudor, Senior Section Head, checks with Dana Poarch, Photographic Editor, on the procedure for taking senior pictures.

During a break, Dade Lunsford, Miss Evans, and Louis Levitt look forward to their next workshop session at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's short course for yearbooks.

"Another year, another Missile," sighs weary yearbook sponsor, Miss Evans.

Review Selects Top Journalists

"Tempus fugit — there is a deadline to meet!" is a very familiar expression heard in the Review room, the home of the school newspaper. A staff of conscientious and interested students, supervised by Russell Jamison, Editor, serve as proof-readers, typists, reporters, page editors, and photographers in order to compile the information that will inform, enlighten, and entertain the student body at Petersburg High. Managing Editor Mac Squires heads the "mechanics" of the Review, seeing that the columns, features, and articles of the newspaper represent a cross-section of student activities at school. Ricky Buettner, News Editor; Susan Van Wagoner, Editorial Editor; Mimi Jones, Feature Editor; and Jimmy Shannon, Sports Editor work with their respective staffs to produce a Review that is highly rated by the SIPA and the Richmond Journalism Clinic.

The job of the Circulation Staff is to have the required number of students subscribe to the Review and see that they receive their papers. This staff works very closely with the Advertising Staff to enable the production of a six page newspaper, eleven times a yar.

Through the efforts of this year's Uniform Committee, the girls have new uniforms which were worn for the first time for last week's meeting. The uniform consists of a white pleated skirt, white blouse, and black monogramed vest.

The officers of the Commercial Club for this year are President, Gail Morrison; Vice-President, Lois Reese, and Secretary-Treasurer, Anne Wells. The faculty sponsor is Miss Inge, who has worked with the club since its reorganization.

Key Club Plans For Work Day

On November 26, 1965, the Friday after Thanksgiving, the Key Club will hold a work-day day. On this day members will be available to do the various jobs around the home from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. The charge will be one dollar per hour of each member working.

One week in advance of the work day, mimeograp' sheets will be distributed in th area surrounding each member's home. On these sheets

Review photographer, John Graves, takes snaps of Alice Pritchett for the next issue.

Review Alerts Students Of School Affairs

Making preparations for the 1965-66 publications, Mac Squires and Mimi Jones hang up the Review shingle.

"What is your opinion on . . ." inquire news reporters, Kathy Goodall and Phil Spencer, of Karen Comer.

Feature reporters, Connie Santago and Cindy Hart, compare articles with news reporters, Kathy Goodall and Ann Mann.

Seen working hard to make the next deadline, are Review sports reporters.

Monitors Execute P.H.S. Military Law

"Clear the halls!" echoes down the corridors of Petersburg High School and we are all reminded that Mr. James Jean and his monitors are on the job. The Monitors Club is one of the most active clubs. Their main job is to maintain orderly conduct during times of crowded conditions. They direct the flow of student traffic between classes every period of the day. Besides keeping student traffic flowing smoothly, the monitors guide classes to the proper seats in the auditorium.

The club is composed of twelve members, all of whom are boys. Members are chosen by Mr. Jean with the approval of Mr. Edwin Betts and Mr. Russell Gill.

"Now," says Jack Aden to Hunter Watson, "after walking the steps twenty times, maybe you'll remember not to slide down the railing."

Monitors Man Battle Stations

"Hold it!" admonishes conscientious monitor, David Mitchell, as he prevents Russ Conway from using the wrong stairs.

Standing guard at the rear door, are stalwart monitors, Mark Poland and Francis Moore.

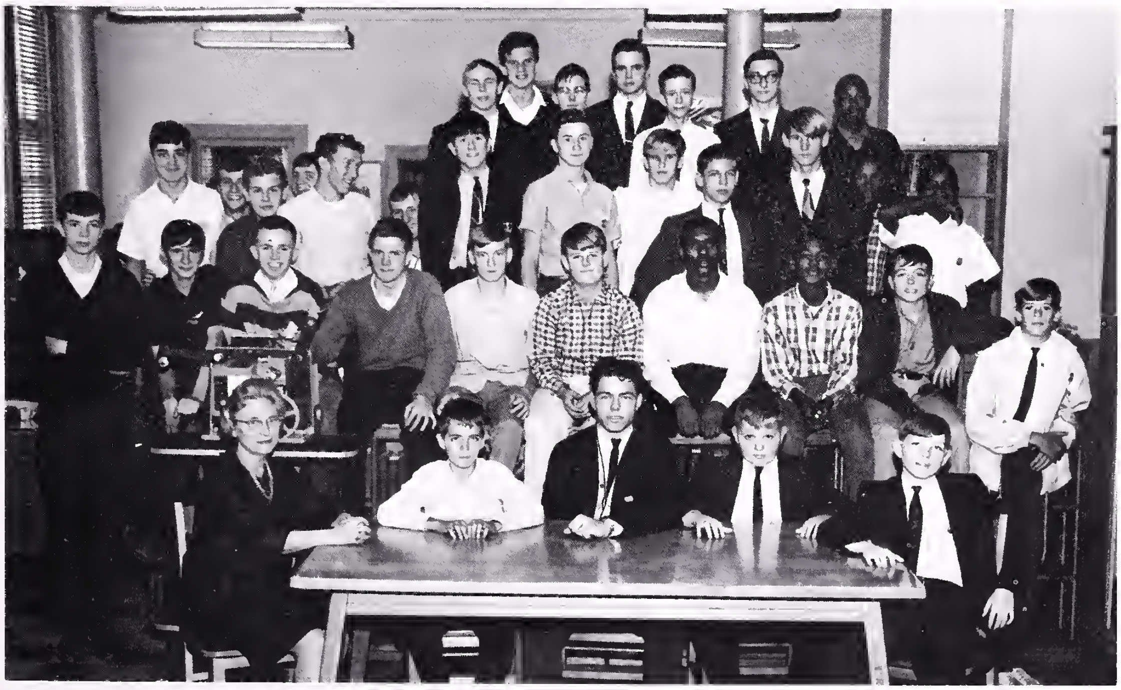
Eagle-eyed Mr. Jean, head of monitors, keeps watch as Andy Hopkins attempts to pass undetected in the hall.

Projection Crew Commands Communications

"Ready, willing, and able" is the response of the Projection Crew.

"Lights, camera, action!" and the projection crew is on the scene. This organization, under the capable direction of Mrs. Lucretia Litchfield, performs an invaluable service to the school. Membership is open to any boy in the school, subject to the completion of a training course under Mrs. Litchfield. One must also pass a test on the projector proving his ability to operate and repair the equipment properly. These boys are responsible for obtaining and showing the films in the classes, and also for operating slide projectors, record players, and other such machines used for aid in the classroom.

Junior members happily look forward to their new jobs.



Library Staff Ensures Haven For Curious Minds

The Library Staff offers service with a smile.

"I wonder if Mrs. Litchfield will approve Little Red Ridinghood?" muses Diane Kaplan.

"How much do I owe?" and "When is my book due?" are only a few of the questions hurled at the members of the library staff who perform efficiently during the school year. Headed by Mrs. Rhea Dodge, the members of the staff stamp passes, check out books, shelve books, and keep the magazines straight. Their service is on a voluntary basis and is an asset to school life.

"What?" says Diane Noon to librarians Gail Tobias and Diane Moore, "I can't owe $2.97!"

Monogram Crew Performs Services

The Monogram Club strives in all it does to promote good sportsmanship and attendance at games, to encourage participation in girls' sports, and to serve the school and community.

This club sells drinks at home basketball games and performs the task of annually cleaning and polishing the school's trophies. The girls are in charge of the Christmas baskets, and under the Christian Children's adoption system, they support an Indian girl.

Membership is open to any girl who has lettered in basketball or softball.

Barbara Weiner, Gail Tobias and Becky Ivey feel that a little football skill would help.

Prestiged Wave Lettermen

Varsity Club members represent all athletic activities.

The Varsity Club is composed of the lettermen of Petersburg High School. The boys can easily be spotted in their crimson jackets with Varsity Club shields. To be eligible for membership in the club, a boy must have earned a varsity sports letter as proof of his ability and skill.

Although their time is limited by practices and games, the Varsity Club sold Crimson Wave license plates, distributed baskets at Christmas time, and operated Cotton Whelan's Service Station one day in the spring.

"Forward Crimson" has been sung by Gold Blazer members for eight years.

"We've got the S-P-I-R-I-T!" The Gold Blazers help to spread this spirit to the student body by teaching cheers and songs, by encouraging participation in all school activities, and by serving as an organized cheering squad for the cheerleaders.

The Gold Blazers render service to our school by serving as ushers both on Parents' Day and College Night. Throughout the year they display victory signs in the halls and decorate the goalposts for home football games.

The membership is composed of representatives from the eighth through the twelfth grades. One representative from each eighth grade homeroom is elected. Any girls reaching semi-finals or finals in cheerleading competition may become Gold Blazer members.

The club holds an annual banquet in the spring to honor Senior members.

"We've got the best team" has always proven true at Petersburg High School.

Expectations Of Year Led

Today's Key Club members—Tomorrow's leaders.

Today's Key Club members are tomorrow's community leaders. The Key Club helps its members to develop initiative and leadership and provides them with experience in living and working together. One of the main objectives of the club is the rendering of service to school and community.

During the fall of this year, the club sponsored a "work day" during which time the members worked at any odd job for a dollar an hour. At Christmas time the Key Club worked in the Salvation Army Booth and joined with the Circle K Club of Richard Bland College in selling Christmas trees. The Key Club assisted their sponsor, the Petersburg Kiwanis Club, in their annual crippled children's project.

Key Club membership is limited to sophomore, junior, and senior boys who have demonstrated the qualities of citizenship, leadership, character, and sportsmanship. New members are nominated by the group and approved by Mr. Gill and a selected faculty committee.

Social Clubs Enjoy Benefits Of

SOCIAL CLUBS

The three social clubs at Petersburg High School render service, spread friendship, and aid in projecting school spirit. Membership in these clubs is attained by invitation.

Each year the members of the Goober Pep award the Mary T. Perkins Latin Trophy to an outstanding third or fourth year Latin student. In addition, they sell school pennants and purchase annually a useful gift for the school.

An odd number of girls compose the membership of the Odd Girls club. The club sponsors an annual Christmas project and sells stationery and pencils to the student body. The O. G. presents an oil painting of historic interest to the school each year.

The Square Circle serves Petersburg High School by selling candy at basketball games. Each year the club sponsors a Silver Tea in December, a fashion show in April, and in May is hostess at a social for all the service clubs of the school.

"Parlez-vous francais?" If your answer is "oui," then Le Cercle francais was established for you. It was organized for the enjoyment of students studying French. The purpose of the club is to help students become better acquainted with the French language and French culture.

The club published a French newspaper this year and exchanged it with one from a neighboring school. A Christmas party was held at the last meeting before the holiday. The French Club has purchased a French Bible, which is read at the beginning of each meeting.

The French Club membership is composed of all students wishing to join the club who have had at least one semester of French. The membership requirements were changed in order to permit the presentation of more programs "en francais."

Through the medium of Spanish songs and games, talks by guest speakers, and presentations by people from the parts of the world where Spanish is spoken, the members of the Spanish Club obtain a better understanding of their "second country" — its customs, language, and people.

Due to a revision in the club's constitution, membership is now open to all Spanish students. Previously, it was necessary for one to have completed one semester of Spanish to be eligible for membership.

Art Club Is Outlet To Creativity

Art Club members relax before starting to "paint the town red."

"Where's the purple paint?" "Who took my brushes?" "How many millions of posters do we have to make?"

Queries such as these are sure to be heard as the Art Club members busily work in the art building.

Students in grades 9-12 who are interested in art may be considered for membership. A passing grade on a special test designed to measure artistic ability and the approval of the sponsor, Mrs. Lou Musgrove, are both necessary for entrance into the club.

The Art Club strives through its many projects to further interest throughout the school in art. The club makes posters announcing school, club, and community activities; prepared decorations for such events as the Band and Glee Club concerts; and also gives the teachers "goodies" on holidays. In the fall the Art Club took a trip to Virginia Beach financed by the sale of candy bars. Here they visited several high school art departments and an art studio, thus providing an opportunity for them to exchange ideas with others.

Majorettes Practice Skillful Routines

By combining sparkle, spice, and talent, the majorettes of P.H.S. add much in stimulating school spirit both on the football field and at our pep rallies. Strutting down the field with batons twirling, they make us all proud that we are from P.H.S.

The squad is composed of eight majorettes and three alternates. They are selected by the present majorettes and the officers of the band on the basis of performing ability, charm, and personality. The head majorette is then chosen by the girls themselves. The majorettes spend much time and energy in practicing in order to assure a flawless performance.

The Majorettes are: Shirley Collins, head majorette; Brenda Wilkerson; Brenda Dunnavant; Jane Holley; Jean Harris; Iris Howell; Elva Thornton; Donna Farrell.

Sport Events Spark School Spirit

Recreation

Recreation, as sports activities are called in nautical terms, plays a large part in our high school's preparatory program; by stressing team work and sportsmanship, each participant gains the benefits of friendship and responsibility, in addition to his physical growth.

School spirit remains at an all time high; boosted by the cheerleaders, the student body has given resounding support to all sports activities.

Petersburg High School can well be proud of our sports standing, not only from our actual records, but also in the development of individual athletic abilities. Thus the recreation program helps assure the passenger a most worthwhile voyage.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1965 Edition of the Crimson Wave Baseball Team, coached by Mr. Norman Jenkins, completed the season with a 10-6 record which placed it fourth in the Central District. The Wave had two wins over Hopewell and Manchester and split decisions to George Wythe, Colonial Heights, Thomas Dale, Prince George, and Huguenot. Five of the games lost were by margins of 2 runs or less, a fact which shows that, with a little more luck, the squad could have finished higher in the standings.

Jimmy Jacobs led the hitting department with a .450 batting average, while co-captain James Ruffa supplied most of the power with three home runs and thirteen runs batted in. Others who got key hits for the Wave were: Forrest Tucker, Rudy Hawkins, Larry Toombs, and Heydon Lewis. Co-captain Bobby Harris and Tommy Watkins carried the load in the pitching and performed admirably as shown by their four shut outs.

The team will lose Ruffa, Harris, Tucker, Jacobs, Ed Myers, and Butch Brantley due to graduation. This will definitely hurt next year's club, but the Wave will have several returning lettermen, a fact which should provide for another scrappy baseball team. Returning will be first baseman, Larry Toombs; outfielders, Jimmy Shannon, Heydon Lewis, Rudy Hawkins, and Pete Minton; utility man, Doug Meredith; pitchers, Mac McAlea and P. C. Spencer.

TRACK

As has been the case for the past two springs, the track team had an unfortunate year in the won-loss column with a record of one win and seven losses. There were, however, some fine individuals on the team such as Dave Evans, who finished first in the high hurdles and third in the low hurdles at the Central District meet, and Tommy Ruffin who tied for fourth in the pole vault. Evans also set a school record of fifteen seconds flat in the high hurdles.

Due to the tremendous lack of depth, several of the boys were placed in many events. These especially were Evans in the hurdles, high jump, discus, and shot put; Jerry and Charles Bach in the hurdles, high jump, and mile relay; co-captain Ruffin and Bernard Wray in the pole vault and mile relay; Larry Forehand in the 100 and 220; co-captain Robbie Harrison in the 440 and 880.

There were a few young distance runners who should bolster future teams for the Wave. Among these were John Beasley in the 880 and the mile; Eddie Phillips in the mile; Jack Aden and Bob Antozzi in the two mile.

In the field events Mac Graham and Ed Myers played important roles in the shot put, as did Dean Freeburn in the discus.

Unless more boys take an interest in track next year, there will be no team; therefore, both Coach Kilborne and Coach Tyler urge boys between the ninth and twelfth grades to come out for the team.

The 1965 Petersburg High School Golf Team, coached by Robert Budlove, with a record of seven wins, four losses, and one tie, finished a very commendable second in the tough Central District.

The team played great golf from tee to green during the entire season and, if the putts had dropped more frequently, it could have repeated as district champions.

In May, four representatives went to Bow Creek Country Club at Virginia Beach to compete in the State High School golf tournament. Out of a field of twenty-six schools, our representatives, Glenn Phipps, Bo Pegram, Danny Fisher, and Jack Rosenstock, finished a highly respectable sixth.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Petersburg High Crimson Wave football team completed the 1965 season with a 7-3 record, placing the Wave third behind Lee-Davis and Thomas Dale in the new Central District. Under the direction of Head Coach Bobby Tyler and assistants Norman Jenkins and Jim Porach, the team completed its third consecutive winning season, making Coach Tyler's record at P.H.S. 22 wins, 6 losses, and 2 ties.

Four members of the team were voted to the all-Central District first team while another was voted to the second team. Center Bob Walker, end Bob Smith, guard Jimmy Shannon, and tackle Mike Lanier were named to the first team and quarterback Rick Wentworth was included on the second team.

Opening up the holes in the line for running backs Rudy Hawkins, Dave DiRenzio, and Ronnie Erb besides the linemen already named above were guard Bookie Barksdale and end Bill Pritchett while at the tackle position were Heydon Lewis, Robert Wheeler, or Vernon Honeycutt.

The defensive team included many of the offensive players with the addition of Mike Moody, who improved with each game as a defensive specialist. Four of the Wave's opponents, Douglas Freeman, Highland Springs, Prince George, and Manchester, were held scoreless. This in itself shows the capability of the Crimson Wave's defense.

Surely the highlight of the season was the Wave's defeat of rival Thomas Dale. Building up an early 13-0 lead, Petersburg played magnificently, not allowing Dale to score until the final thirty seconds of the game.

The defensive team lines up against Colonial Heights and awaits the snap.

Cheerleaders Generate Enthusiasm

"What do you say, VICTORY!" has been the motto of the 1965-66 Varsity Cheerleaders. These eleven vivacious young ladies have gallantly stood by the Crimson Wave during wins and losses. To create good sportsmanship and more school spirit has been their main objective.

In the spring of every year, competitive tryouts are held. The girls are chosen for their personality, cheerfulness, personal appearance, and their ability to perform the yells. To be a Varsity Cheerleader, one must have an 85 or above average.

On Thanksgiving morning the Cheerleaders, with their sponsor, Miss Mary Bailey, have their annual breakfast. After football season, a Cheerleader-Football banquet is held.

"Crimson Wave is the best!" cheer Varsity Cheerleaders Mary Willet, Joanne Hartman, Mimi Jones, Mary Prince, and Donnie Lamb.

And Spark School Spirit

J.V. Cheerleader Leslie Becker looks pensive while Helen Johnson, Caroline Griffith, and Pam Graves cheer the Waves.

"Five cents . . . . . ten cents . . . . . fifty cents . . . . . a dollar, all for Petersburg stand up and holler!"

A squad of twelve vivacious and enthusiastic Junior Varsity Cheerleaders sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Syme, are found supporting the Baby Wave to victory with their spirited and original cheers. Competitive tryouts are held in the spring semester of each year to choose the lively lasses who try to promote school spirit among students of P.H.S.

The J.V. Cheerleaders line up for one of their many practices.

"Go! Fight! Win! Wave!"

"Waves are gr-r-r-r-reat!" repeat varsity cheerleaders, Karen Comer and Kathy Goodall in one of the many afternoon practice sessions preceding a game.

Advertisements

"Sir, an advertisement in our annual, having a circulation of over a thousand. . . " — so might begin an ad solicitor from the Missile staff. He reminds the advertiser that these ads are informative and necessary to an interested student body.

Just as the Missile shows the business and social life of the school, it must also reflect the influence of the community. Advertising accomplishes this purpose, for it reveals the interest and concern of our city's businesses.

Therefore, the Missile staff gratefully acknowledges and salutes its sponsors and boosters, who have helped to make the production of this annual possible.

GOOD GAS SERVICE MAKES WARM FRIENDS

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

Although now you are graduates, you can do a great service for the rest of us, if you never cease to be students — looking for opportunities and ways to cherish the American system of free enterprise and to improve the American way of life. You can be thankful for free schools in a country where you are free to worship and work and think and talk as you please. This is your heritage from the people who built America.

THE FUTURE is pretty largely in your hands — you must be vigilant and active to combat the evils of socialism, government domination of private industry, and all the "isms" that destroy democracy. We depend upon you to do a good job.

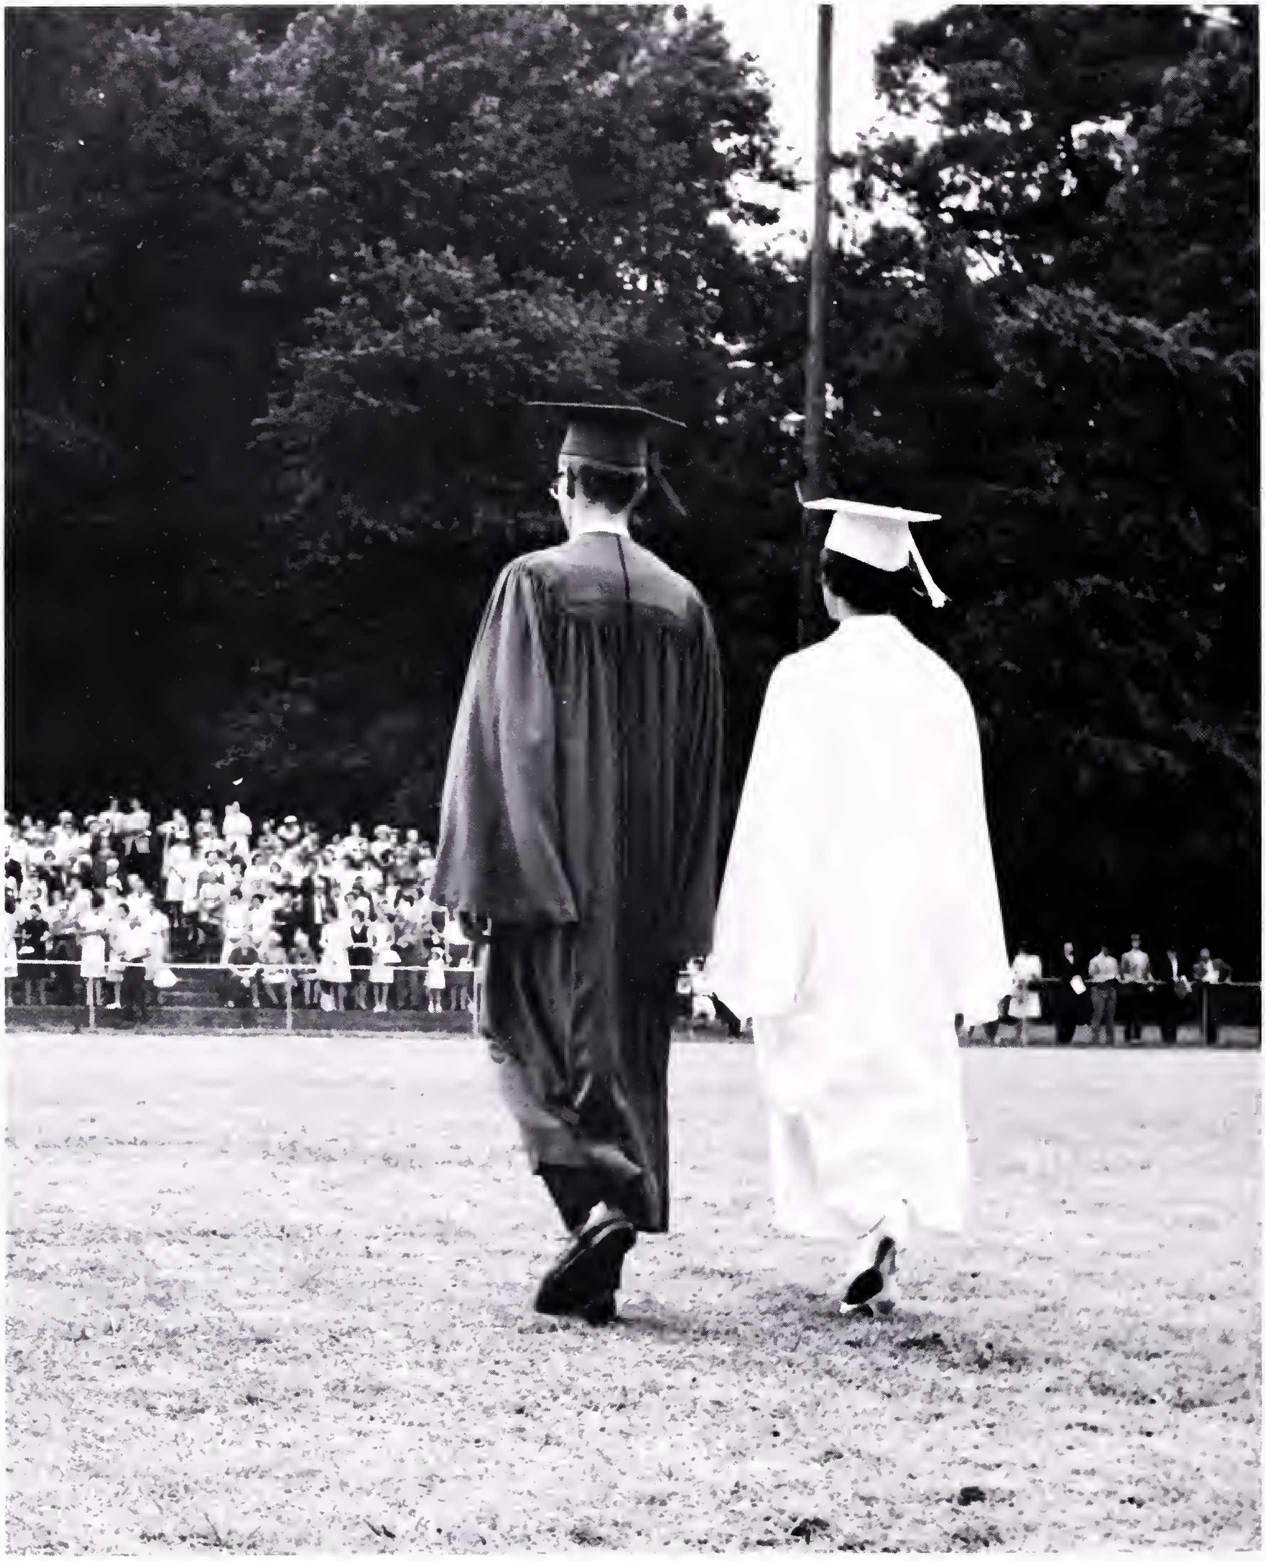
Graduation Closes The 1966 Voyage



Graduation is the most significant moment at Petersburg High School. For the class of 1966, it marks the end of years of work, participation, and enjoyment; for underclassmen it is the realization of steady advancement toward the completion of their own journey.

It is fitting then that graduation should conclude our book; yet while the close of this year's voyage is the culmination of the work of students, faculty, and administration in the 1965-66 session, school life continually progresses at Petersburg High and forever looks to the future.
